twenty-two

we do it

Naomi invited some friends to spend the night at her house.

'Mom is baking brownies, so come early before dad eats them all' - she told her friends.

The girls arrived at seven sharp, just when Lewis was taking the brownies out of the oven. The girls knocked on the door and Naomi said, 'Come in and step right into the kitchen, the brownies are ready.'

After saying hello, Lewis warned them, 'Don't eat the brownies yet, they're too hot.' And then she said to Naomi, 'Sweetie, prepare some chocolate milk for the girls and you.'

Naomi asked one of the girls, 'Please, pass me the glasses.' And she prepared a delicious drink to go with the cakes.

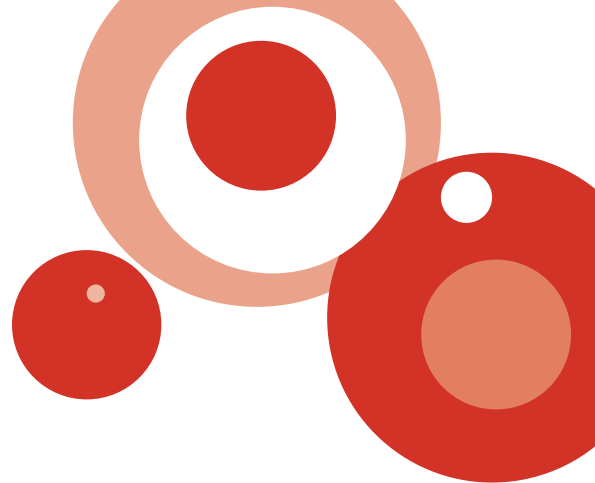

When the girls were enjoying the cakes and the milk, Lewis came back and said, 'Don't eat them all, leave two or three for dad. And after you finish, clean up the mess in the kitchen, before you go.'

The girls cleaned up everything and went to Naomi's room.

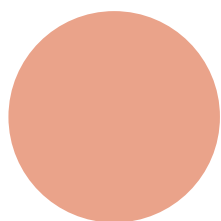

Lewis came in some minutes afterwards and said to them, 'Dad and I are going to the movies, so have fun and behave well.'
